HONOR RESTORED

Documentary • World War II History • HD • 60 Minutes

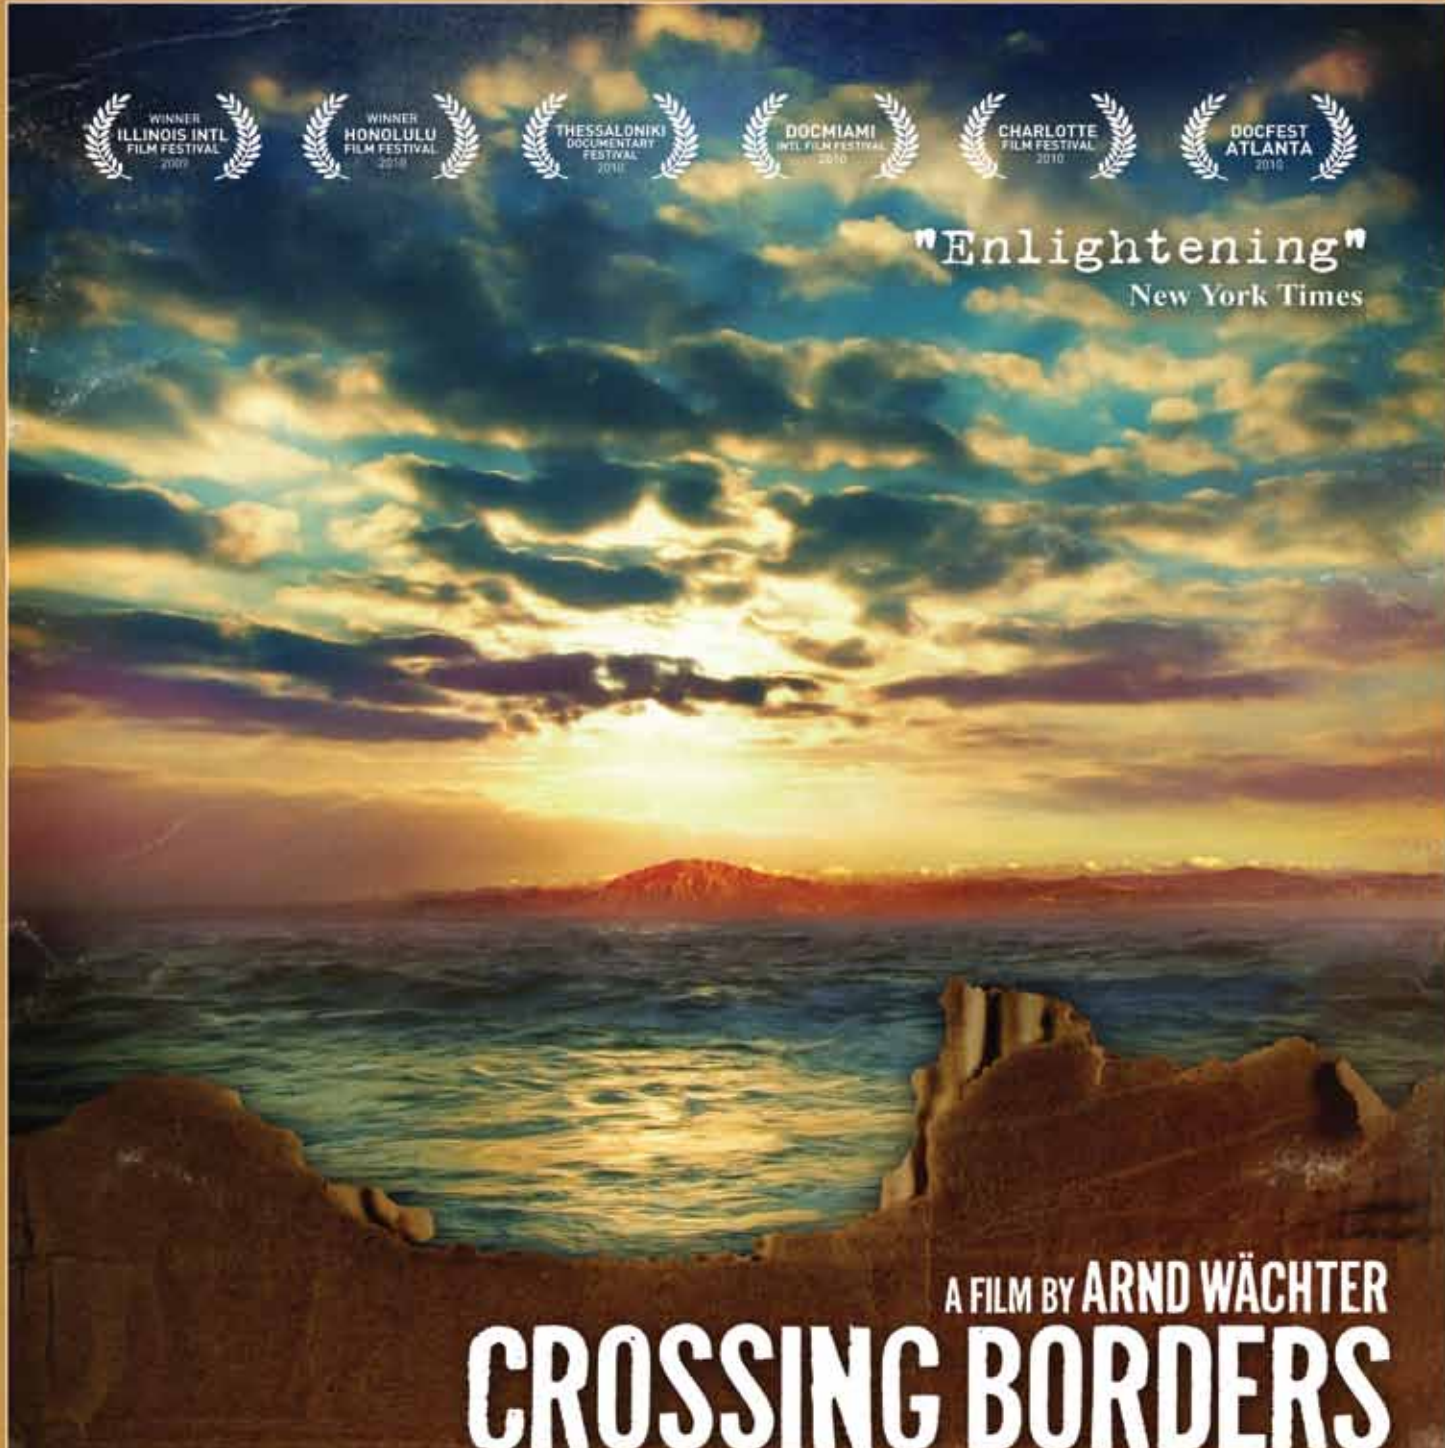

www.janson.com

This documentary tells the complete story, for the first time, of "The Ship That Wouldn't Die," the aircraft carrier that survived a direct hit by a Japanese armor-piercing bomb just 50 miles off the coast of Japan in March 1945. In an instant the crew's lives were changed forever, and the events that followed would make the story of "Big Ben" one of the most dramatic and inspiring in naval history. Narrated by Dale Dye. www.janson.com

Established in 1989, Janson Media is an independent content production and distribution company based in the United States, with a catalog of 1,500+ hours of exclusive programming available for licensing to worldwide television, VOD, DVD/video, non-theatric, and emerging new media markets. The company has licensed programming to virtually every country in the world, and its clients include nearly every major broadcaster or media company, as well as a wide range of DVD labels and distributors.

Our Rights Portfolio -- content available for licensing to television broadcasters and VOD, DVD/Video, non-theatric and new media companies around the world -- is continually updated with new releases, and includes documentaries and children's programming, animation, music and performance, lifestyle, nature & wildlife, science, health, sport, travel, adventure, how-to, history, current affairs, dramas and features.

The company's home entertainment division publishes and manufactures DVDs and distributes them directly through its network of wholesalers, subdistributors and rack jobbers into a marketplace that ultimately includes over 15,000 public libraries, over 20,000 retailers, including video stores, museum gift shops, supermarkets, bookstores, and home electronics stores. Our distribution also includes dozens of direct-marketing accounts delivering mail-order catalogs to consumers. We also have a significant reach into the Catholic and Christian marketplaces. Our vertical marketing reaches DVD buyers in the hospital and institutional markets, the State and National Parks networks of gift shops, and the not-for-profit universe of schools, colleges, universities and foundations. All of our DVD titles are also available from a variety of websites and portals for sale or rental as digital files. Our fast-growing DVD Catalog includes over 240 quality titles, ranging from children's and family films to award-winning documentaries and educational programs in the categories of travel, health and exercise, cooking, spirituality, history, pop culture, art, music, how-to, and self-help.

www.janson.com/media/consultancy

Janson Media also operates as a media consultancy specializing in content production, distribution and financing, and as an executive production and development company focused on the creation of original documentary programming for broadcasters worldwide. The company has produced or executive produced 29 television specials or series, working with such broadcasters as PBS, National Geographic Channels, Discovery Channel, Discovery Health Channel, Bravo, Lifetime, TNT, and A&E.
